Residents of District E,

As I sit and write the opening for this month's newsletter, President Obama just announced that Osama Bin Laden has been killed. That is a tremendous victory for us in our fight against terrorism. It also makes me realize, more than ever, how much I appreciate our military men and women. A day doesn't go by that I do not try to recognize our soldiers in some way. Matter of fact, I have been working closely with the Houston Dynamo Soccer president Chris Canetti to do just that. On Friday, April 29th, we recognized Major Sgt. Craig Reuter of the Air Force who serves out of Ellington Field. On Wednesday, May 4th, we recognized Noncommissioned Officer, Staff Sergeant Maximo Nunez of the 82nd Airborne Division. It is a true honor for me to nominate these men so they can be recognized on the field during halftime activities. You have no idea how much the Dynamo crowds appreciate these men. They are given a standing ovation, and the applause is thunderous. I want to personally thank Chris Canetti for letting me be a part of these ceremonies.

Houston city council will begin the budget approval process full speed in the next couple of weeks. Mayor Parker will present her budget to us, and we will be given an opportunity to offer amendments. I have always offered a number of amendments to the mayor's budget, all in an effort to reduce spending, focus on core responsibilities of city government and to improve service to constituents while doing so. This budget year will not be different. You can expect budget cutting amendments, not just because we are facing a budget deficit of $150MM next year, but because it is the right thing to do.

The other important issue facing city council is redistricting. This process is conducted every 10 years, immediately after the federal census is conducted. The city engaged demographers, legal representation, academic institutions and other experts in proposing two new council districts, as well as balancing population throughout existing council districts. A series of public meetings were held throughout the city. Public hearings were also held at city council over the last three weeks. I am pleased to say that District E's configuration stays somewhat the same, with it only losing areas west of the Gulf Freeway (I-45). Other than that, there are no changes to the district. City council will vote on the proposed council districts in May, in time for the upcoming fall city elections. All council members, city controller and mayor will be on the November ballot this year.

Lastly, I want to thank my city council staff for the outstanding work they do. Even while taking involuntary furlough days, they continue to do their jobs and take care of my constituents. They are as committed to serving you as I am, and for that, I want to publicly thank them. I am blessed to have Monica, Karina, Lauren and Kelly here to help me do the job that needs to be done. They are the best.

Thank you for the privilege of serving you.

In addition, he toured the Patrol facility and the sight of the new HPD classroom that will house boating safety courses on the lake.

It is the primary law enforcement agency for the 12,000 surface acres of water of Lake Houston. The unit consists of seven officers and one supervisor. The unit patrols on the water seven days a week and responds to emergencies on the water 24 hours a day. All officers assigned to Lake Patrol are trained and certified as Marine Safety Enforcement Officers as required by state law and as Boater Education Instructors. Tax Increment Reinvestment Zones (TIRZs) are special zones created by city council to attract new investment to an area. Arson investigators promptly responded to the incident and were on scene to look into what could have started the fire.

The club house at the Clear Lake Golf Course burned down to the ground during the afternoon of April 7. Firefighters from five different fire stations responded to the call and laboriously worked to put out the flames for several hours. That evening, contractors arrived and completely demolished the building that has been such a concern to the community.

Since being sworn into office, Council Member Sullivan has received numerous complaints about the blight of the building and the public safety hazard it has been. He has worked with HPD's Clear Lake substation and Neighborhood Protection over the last couple of years to ensure that the building and property continued to be secured and maintained due to the close vicinity of a school, recreation center and residential properties.
